By working together, our business outcome is a successful project that is delivered on time, within budget, and built to the highest quality standards.

The professional staff at Armor Construction Services understands meeting defined business metrics every time is a critical element for today's success

We collaborate with mechanical, electrical, and plumbing (MEP) engineers, equipment manufacturers, and architecture firms for a successful on-time, on-budget, and on-quality outcome.

Armor Construction Services provides complete general construction and installation services. After a visit to your facility to understand the scope of the project, we provide a comprehensive proposal outlining a full scope of work required to achieve your business objectives. Our partnership allows you and your staff to remain focused on your operational production, while we build-out your physical space and install your industrial equipment systems.

Due to our wide range of experience along with in-house architectural, engineering, and fabrication capabilities, we can offer more than our competitors. We are committed to providing quality, on-time installation, and on-budget construction services. This is achieved through a focus on customer satisfaction, a strong sense of commitment, and a desire to exceed expectations.
